Information about the collection of personal data

Personal data is all data that can be related to you personally, e.g., name, address, e-mail addresses, user behaviour.

If we use contracted service providers for individual functions of Getir UK’s offer, we will inform you in detail about the respective processes below. In doing so, we will also state the defined criteria for the storage period.

What personal data does Getir collect and why?

The personal data that we collect about you falls into the following categories:

Data that you provide voluntarily

Checkout Information

When you use our Retail Services, we will collect your name, surname and e-mail address. The processing of your personal data is based on our:

- legal obligations (Art. 6 (1) (c) GDPR) to process and store personal data for consumer protection, invoicing, tax and accounting purposes;
- and - obligations to fulfill the contract concluded with you (Art. 6 (1) (b) GDPR).

Contact by e-mail or via contact form

When you contact us by e-mail or via a contact form, your e-mail address and, if provided by you, your name and telephone number will be stored by us in order to answer your questions. We delete the data collected in this context after the storage is no longer necessary, or - in the case of legal retention obligations - restrict the processing.

Why does Getir collect this data?

Getir processes the personal data stated above for the following purposes:

- To perform analysis for improving our products and services
- To conduct activities around customer satisfaction
- To conduct Getir activities in accordance with the applicable legislation
- Review and audit of Getir business activities
- To conduct financial and accounting affairs related to your payments

With whom does Getir share my personal data?

We may disclose your personal data to the following categories of recipients:

- to our group companies, including but not limited to, Getir Turkey (Getir Perakende Lojistik A.Ş.), Getir Netherlands (Getir Netherlands B.V.), Getir France (Getir France SAS) and Getir Italy (Getir Italy S.r.l.), Getir Spain (Getir Spain S.L.), Getir Portugal (GetirPT, Unipessoal Lda.) in the interests of the Getir group as a whole (e.g. a group-wide candidate application systems);
- to our third party service providers and partners who provide data processing services to us (for example, to process payments and facilitate online servers for the Retail Services), or who otherwise process personal data for purposes that are described in this Privacy Policy or notified to you when we collect your personal data. Categories of our service providers include but not limited to: (i) payment service providers such as Adyen; and (ii) online server providers such as Amazon AWS - In each case, we have concluded appropriate data processor agreements in line with the applicable data protection laws;
- to any competent law enforcement body, regulatory, government agency, court or other third party when disclosure is necessary (i) as a matter of applicable law or regulation, (ii) to exercise, establish or defend our legal rights, or (iii) to protect your vital interests or those of any other person;
- to an actual or potential buyer (and its agents and advisers) in connection with any actual or proposed purchase, merger or acquisition of any part of our business, provided that we inform the buyer it must use your personal data only for the purposes disclosed in this Privacy Policy;
- to any other third party with your consent to the disclosure.

Legal basis for processing personal data

Our legal basis for collecting and using the personal data described above will depend on the personal data concerned and the specific context in which we collect it.

However, we will collect and process your personal data

- pursuant to Art. 6 (1) (b) UK GDPR where we need the personal data to perform a contract with you, such as information strictly necessary for the purposes of entering into or performing a contract with you and providing deliveries;
- In some cases, we may also have a legal obligation to process and store personal data for consumer protection, invoicing, tax and accounting purposes, or may otherwise need some personal data to protect your vital interests or those of another person. In these cases, we process your personal data pursuant to Art. 6 (1) (c) UK GDPR.
- pursuant to Art. 6 (1) (f) UK GDPR where the processing is in our legitimate interests and not overridden by your rights and we do not rely on another legal basis described above, such as improving or personalizing your online experience and our communications with you;

If we ask you to provide personal data to comply with a legal requirement or to perform a contract with you, we will make this clear at the relevant time and advise you whether the provision of your personal data is mandatory or not (as well as of the possible consequences if you do not provide your personal data).

If we collect and use your personal data in reliance on our legitimate interests, this interest will be to operate the Retail Services and communicating with you as necessary to provide our services to you and for our legitimate commercial interest, for instance, when responding to your queries, or improving the Retail Services. In addition to the legitimate interests described in this Privacy Policy, we may have other legitimate interests and if appropriate we will make clear to you at the relevant time what those legitimate interests are.

If you have questions about or need further information concerning the legal basis on which we collect and use your personal data, please contact us using the contact details provided under the “How to contact us” heading below.

How does Getir keep my personal data secure?

We use appropriate technical and organisational measures to protect the personal data that we collect and process about you. The measures we use are designed to provide a level of security appropriate to the risk of processing your personal data. Specific measures we or our third-party service providers use include anti-virus software and firewalls, access controls, encryption and detection and prevention software to detect and prevent cyber-attacks.

International data transfers

As our group companies, third party service providers and partners operate around the world, your personal data will be transferred to a location outside of the United Kingdom (“UK”).

When your personal data are transferred outside the UK, we are required to ensure that it is subject to an equivalent level of protection as it would within the UK. Therefore, we have taken appropriate safeguards to require that your personal data will remain protected in accordance with applicable data protection law and with this Privacy Policy.

These include, for example, implementing the Standard Contractual Clauses accepted by the Information Commissioner's Office for transfers of personal data between our group companies, which require all group companies to protect personal data they process from data subjects residing in the UK in accordance with the applicable data protection law.

A copy of the Standard Contractual Clauses can be provided on request. We have implemented similar appropriate safeguards with our third party service providers and partners and further details can be provided upon request.

Data retention

Your personal data will be stored and retained for us in accordance with the applicable laws on data protection, and to the extent necessary for the processing purposes set out under this Privacy Policy or resulting from such laws. We retain personal data we collect from you to provide you with our services or to comply with applicable legal, tax or accounting requirements.

When it is no longer necessary to process your personal data for the purposes for which it is processed, we will either aggregate, delete or anonymise it or, if this is not possible (for example, because your personal data has been stored in backup archives), then we will securely store your personal data and isolate it from any further processing until deletion is possible.

Notwithstanding the above provisions of this Privacy Policy, we may retain your personal data where such retention is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation to which we are subject, or in order to protect your vital interests or the vital interests of another natural person.

Your data privacy rights

You have the following data privacy rights:

- Right to information

You have the right to receive information from us at any time, upon request, about the personal data we process that concerns you within the scope of Art. 15 UK GDPR. To do this, you can send a request by post or email to the addresses below.

- Right to rectify inaccurate data

You have the right to request that we correct personal data relating to you without delay if it is incorrect. To do so, please contact us at the addresses below.

- Right to erasure

You have the right, under the conditions described in Art. 17 UK GDPR, to demand that we delete the personal data relating to you. These conditions provide in particular for the right to erasure if the personal data are no longer necessary for the purposes for which they were collected or otherwise processed, as well as in cases of unlawful processing, the existence of an objection or the existence of a duty to erase under Union law or the law of the Member State to which we are subject. For the period of data storage, please also see section "data retention" of this Privacy Policy. To assert your right to deletion, please contact us at the addresses given below.

- Right to restriction of processing

You have the right to demand that we restrict processing in accordance with Art. 18 UK GDPR. This right exists in particular if the accuracy of the personal data is disputed between the user and us, for the period of time required to verify the accuracy, as well as in the event that the user requests restricted processing instead of erasure in the case of an existing right to erasure; furthermore, in the event that the data is no longer necessary for the purposes pursued by us, but the user requires it for the assertion, exercise or defence of legal claims, as well as if the successful exercise of an objection is still disputed between us and the user. To exercise your right to restrict processing, please contact us at the addresses below.

- Right to data portability

You have the right to receive from us the personal data relating to you that you have provided to us in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format in accordance with Art. 20 UK GDPR. To exercise your right to data portability, please contact us at the addresses below.

- Right of objection

You have the right to object at any time, on grounds relating to your particular situation, to the processing of personal data relating to you which is carried out, inter alia, on the basis of Art. 6(1)(e) or (f) UK GDPR, in accordance with Art. 21 UK GDPR. We will stop processing your personal data unless we can demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override your interests, rights and freedoms, or if the processing serves the assertion, exercise or defence of legal claims.

- Right of complaint

You also have the right to contact the competent supervisory authority in case of complaints. The competent supervisory authority is the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), who can be found under here.

We respond to all requests we receive from individuals wishing to exercise their data protection rights in accordance with applicable data protection laws.

Updates to this Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time in response to changing legal, technical or business developments. When we update our Privacy Policy, we will take appropriate measures to inform you, consistent with the significance of the changes we make. We will obtain your consent to any material Privacy Policy changes if and where this is required by applicable data protection laws.

You can see when this Privacy Policy was last updated by checking the "last updated" date displayed at the top of this Privacy Policy.
